

Prosopa

A short walk from the Rouf metro stop, this snug restaurant right behind the train tracks is a little gem. The friendly staff, as well as the fine food, make a visit all the more worthwhile. The menu is made up of pasta, rice, fish and meat, cooked with Mediterranean ingredients to create interesting contemporary dishes such as beef fillet with an espresso sauce. Part of the regeneration of the Gazi and Kerameikos area, Prosopa is fêted for its design as much as its cuisine. The modern interior bears the signature of Alexandros Tsikordanos' 360 Design Office, one of the capital's up-and-coming design firms. The outdoor space at the rear is an ideal retreat on a long, hot summer night.
